& PALLIATIVE CARE

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE:

WE'RE LUCKY TO KNOW YOU, KANSAS CITY

Join KCH for Sunday Night Live, October 6

KANSAS CITY, Mo., September 23, 2024 – Games are back at Sunday Night Live, the signature event of Kansas City Hospice & Palliative Care (KCH) where this year – the stakes are high. Larger-than-life Plinko-game high. Lucky Liquor and Wine Toss high. And even – try your arm throwing a football at bowling pins, ala Fowling – that kind of high – stakes.

The theme? Lucky to Know You and we don't just mean YOU – we mean you and you and you! Coming up Sunday, October 6 – this truly is a community event, for and about Kansas City people.

"This is the best way to spend your Sunday evening – and the Chiefs aren't even playing!" says David Wiley, President and CEO of Kansas City Hospice. "We heard from our attendees: they love fun things to do during Sunday Night Live, so we made that happen. You'll enjoy some familiar elements, like the amazing stories of three beloved families we're certainly lucky to know. And you'll still get to enjoy all the best food the Power & Light District cooks up. What's new – well, you'll have to come to experience it firsthand! Our theme Lucky to Know You really says it all: we're lucky to know this wonderful city, lucky for the compassion of our caregivers and the teams who care for families all around KC – we're *simply feeling lucky."

A volunteer committee of community members came together to plan and share an extraordinary night. "What makes this event different," says Wiley, "is the unique opportunity we have to pay tribute to people in attendance AND to the dear friends and family they may be grieving. We're so fortunate - SO LUCKY - to be part of so many families' stories across the city. It's truly an honor to celebrate our friends and supporters and to realize at the same time - the compassionate care and importance of why we're all acquainted. It's a privilege and we always remember that."

Kicking off at 5 pm, Sunday Night Live includes delectable food and drinks from many Power & Light eateries, music, silent and live auctions, and more. The fan-favorite raffle is back, which includes trips, foodie packages, sports memorabilia, and more. One new in-person feature at Sunday Night Live includes new Lucky Lotto scratcher tickets to win a giant prize. There will be a lucky signature cocktail on every bar...and more.

All this is made possible in part by our major sponsors, including: the Mallin Family; Teresa and Tom Walsh; G Kenneth & Ann Baum Philanthropic Fund; University of Kansas Health System; and Herb and Bonnie Buchbinder. Kansas City Hospice is very grateful for their support and the support of our many sponsors and donors.

Visit KCHospice.org/SNL for tickets, raffles, the silent auction, and the latest event updates.

The best part? You don't have to be present to win (or even bid!) on silent auction or raffle packages – it's all done on your phone. Everyone is encouraged to participate to support the mission of Kansas City Hospice, a nonprofit organization serving the entire metro area.

About Kansas City Hospice & Palliative Care
The mission of Kansas City Hospice & Palliative Care is to bring expert care, peace of mind, comfort, guidance, and hope to people who are affected by serious illness or by grief. And, our vision is each person in our community is valued from life through death and each family is supported in their grief. The team of caring and trained professionals is considered the leader and innovator in palliative and end-of-life care in this region. We are also the area's only provider of comprehensive community-based grief support services. More than 300 volunteers assist in many roles, including administrative duties and working with patients and families.
